Paul Coble: Commissioner No!

No! Economy

Opposes public private partnerships like the RBC Center and the Carolina Hurricanes, and criticizes government efforts to create new jobs.

No! Education

Supports School Board's rash approach to student assignment and opposes impact fees on new growth to pay for school construction so property taxes can be kept in existing classrooms.

No! Transportation

Opposes regional rail calling it '19th century technology' and believes just building more roads will satisfy our transportation needs.

“Paul Coble simply is short on the kind of vision that can help this community build on its strengths and address its shortcomings.”

Jack Nichols: Leadership that Works

✓ Economy

A proven record recruiting business and jobs to Wake County, Jack understands the keys to a strong economy are world class schools, good infrastructure, low taxes, and a clean and healthy environment.

✓ Education

An original sponsor of teacher pay supplements, Jack values magnet schools, and supports finding a third way on student assignment based on data and building consensus so we can focus on student achievement.

✓ Transportation

Jack supports an integrated transportation system including more buses and regional rail that provides citizens choices, stimulates development, and prevents traffic congestion from choking our air quality and economy.

“Nichols has creative ideas for harmonizing relations between the school board and the commissioners.”
